Farewell

This is how I would like to be remembered, and what matters most to me.

Ceremony

I would like to be cremated in the Netherlands, as this is where I have built my life over the years.

I want my farewell to feel like a celebration of life, not a heavy or somber gathering. Think light, warm, and human. A space where there is room for laughter alongside grief.

I would like to be cremated, in a simple white coffin. Please don't spend too much money on it. I would rather that budget be used for the ceremony itself.

The ceremony does not need to take place in a church. I would prefer a bright, open space with plenty of natural light, or even an outdoor setting in nature.

Location

Crematorium Daelwijck

Floridadreef 7 7
3565AM Utrecht
Netherlands

Music

David Bowie – Heroes
Ludovico Einaudi – Experience
Coldplay – Fix You
Frank Sinatra – My Way
Bruce Springsteen - Downbound train
The Cure - The same deep waters

Personal wishes

- Everyone should feel free to dress as they wish, but preferably not in black
- People are welcome to share something, but nothing should feel obligatory
- My sister Anja may play a short piece on the clarinet during the ceremony
- Everyone is welcome, including old friends and people from the old days
- I've added a guest list as an attachment

Photos & memories

I think it would be beautiful to show a short slideshow with photos from different periods of my life. Not just the big moments, but especially the small ones Travels, friends, holidays and everyday life. You are welcome to use your own photos, but as you know, my albums are organised alphabetically in the cabinet on the landing.

I have also recorded a farewell video. I have not included it here, but it is stored on the USB drive in my desk drawer, together with the password for this package.

After the ceremony

After the ceremony, I would appreciate it if people could gather at another location. Not the usual coffee and cake at the crematorium, but rather an informal setting where people can talk, laugh and share memories. The location doesn't matter to me. Make it a celebration please.

Other wishes

- I would like a funeral card. Please use the owl (a gift from my dear niece Lois)
- It does not matter who carries the coffin to the crematorium
- I would like my ashes to be scattered in the garden of my childhood home
- Above all, please be kind to one another
- I would like a photo of Daisy and Kate, my beloved dogs, placed on the coffin

Belongings & Valuables

Here I've outlined who should receive what. Everything else can be handled as you see fit.

Record collection

Shared among friends

I would love for you to choose something together. Make a moment of it, maybe with a drink and music. Anything left can go to a collector or record store

Racing bike

Mark Harris

This bike meant a lot to me. I hope you will use it, not just keep it

Jewelry

Already discussed

There are still a few surprises in the box. Feel free to fight over them.

Camper van

Lottery

Anyone who would like it can join. Mark, as the natural quizmaster, can organize this.

Art pieces

Family and friends

Not financially valuable, but emotionally meaningful
Paintings go to Lisa Mortel
Drawings and sculptures to Arie van Veen
All smaller items to Petra van Dongen

Household items

Freely distributed

Anything useful can be shared among family and friends
